

I listen to XM Radio and their traffic is much better than regular radio. The only time regular radio carries Philadelphia traffic is "on the 2's". With XM I'm able to get it any time. This is not unfair competition to regular radio, it is an enhancement. By the way, I still listen to local radio including local sports talk radio. Satellite radio provides an alternative service to regular radio. There shouldn't be a law against competition of satellite radio just as there isn't a law against cable TV compared to over the air TV. I choose to pay for satellite radio monthly because it provides a service that over the air radio doesn't provide.
